Around
the Square

Two Forest Service men swear to it. They saw a full-grown mountain lion roaming around someone's front lawn in the canyon area—the Vista Circle vicinity—not so long ago.

They dashed to their car for a gun, but the activity stirred the animal's instincts and it headed for the hills and escaped.

The Council is ready to enter discussions with Pasadena over just where the city's west boundary lies. The city wants to put up a stop sign to halt eastbound incoming traffic on Sierra Madre boulevard at the city limit. And the city fathers are wondering just where the line is and whether Pasadena is exceeding the bounds of good neighborliness by widening South Michillinda without talking it over with Sierra Madre.

The Masons are good housekeepers. A delegation of at least 12 out of weeding the ivy in front of the Masonic Hall this week.

"Help," says Mrs. Robert A. Shadforth of 382 W. Montecito avenue. "I lost my purse."

It happened, she relates, on Kersting Court Tuesday night. Of principal value was her driver's license and a check made out to Cash. We're looking for the honest man today to call her or turn it into the local police's lost and found dept.

We quote the New Yorker—which did its quoting as a result of the N.Y.C. Water Shortage:

Nearly everything that can be said about water turns out to be only half true...

Thus, if water is, as we keep being warned these days, the most precious of our mineral resources, it is also by far the commonest and the cheapest (cheaper than dirt: the average price of water in this country, delivered to your faucet, is a nickel a ton).

Water is not a natural resource like copper or coal, into whose dwindling reserves we tunnel our way until the last vein is worked. Instead, it is a resource as permanent as its two peers, sunlight and air, and while human ingenuity may contrive to do it some temporary, infinitesimal damage here and there, it can never be diminished.

We discard it after use, but it is indestructible, it won't wear out. In the centuries since some thirsty and gifted savage built the first water works by damming with stones and moss a clear glacial stream, man has failed to subtract a single teacupful of water from the world supply.

There would be no water shortages if people were prepared to pay the costs of avoiding them. But it is another of the paradoxes of water that while it is unbelievably cheap by the gallon, taxpayers are universally inclined to consider their water bills too high, and since additions to a water system are expensive and must be planned and begun years in advance, they are rarely ready in time and are rarely adequate for long.

It is, in fact, characteristic of urban man that he is always running out of water.

Competition Begins For 1950
Wistaria Queen and Court

Competition leading to the selection of the 1950 Wistaria Queen and her court began this week. Lorne Pratt, director of the Wistaria Festival, announced that entries for the annual queen contest will be received through March 6.

Those selected will reign over the 1950 Wistaria Fete which will begin late in March when the giant 58-year-old Wistaria Vine blooms and continue through most of April.

Pratt announced the following rules for the Wistaria Queen contest:

A girl must be at least 16 years old to enter. She need not have had previous modeling or professional experience.

Bishop Bloy To Dedicate
New Ascension School

Dedicatory services for the new Church of the Ascension Parish Day School will be conducted Sunday afternoon, Feb. 26.

The Right Rev. Francis Eric Bloy, D. D., Bishop of Los Angeles, will dedicate the new school building and present a dedicatory address at approximately 4 p. m.

The Rev. Harley G. Smith, Jr., Ascension Church Rector, and School Principal, Sister Noel, C. S. M., said between 20 and 25 prominent clergymen from neighboring cities will attend the event.

One of the honored guests attending the dedicatory ceremonies will be the Rev. Mother Mary Ambrose, C.S.M., from St. Mary's Convent at Kenosha, Wis. The Rev. Mother is Provincial Superior of the Sisters of St. Mary.

Construction on the school began Oct. 10, and first classes on Jan. 10. Cost of the building $21,500, was raised principally by popular subscription through the efforts of Building Fund Chairman Hall Perry.

Shaped like a capital "L," the building includes four modernistic classrooms, the principal's office, and a school library. Each classroom is a complete unit, having a cloakroom, sink, and boys' and girls' washrooms.

Featuring the latest medically-approved lighting, classrooms and blackboards are painted a shade of green recommended as most restful for

SERIES OF PUBLIC
FORUMS PROPOSEDSpeakers Would Include
Howser, Quinn and Smith

BY STAN CANN

A series of public forums leading up to the Municipal election April 11, and the State Primary election, June 6, was proposed this week by the Sierra Madre NEWS as a public service. Editor of the NEWS, Arthur Hewitt, announced that the list of public officials who have been contacted for appearance at the public forums includes:

State Attorney General Fred N. Howser, County Assessor John R. Quinn, Supervisor William A. Smith, Supervisor Raymond V. Darby, County Manager Wayne R. Allen, County Superintendent of Charities Arthur J. Will, County Flood Control Director H. E. Hedger, and Los Angeles City Councilman Ernest Debs.

Mr. Howser, Mr. Quinn and Mr. Smith are seeking reelection this year. Mr. Darby is running for Lieutenant Governor, and Mr. Debs is to file for the State Board of Equalization.

No date has been set for the first forum which probably will be held in March. It was believed that public forum at which City Council candidates will appear could also be worked into the series which will be open meetings at the city school.

Mr. Hewitt said that no meetings would be scheduled until the forum program had been cleared through the Coordinating Council.

NEWS readers are invited to make suggestions as to which public officers they would like to hear.

Tentatively scheduled to the first meeting are Supervisors Smith and Assessor Quinn.

Another forum being arranged would have on its speaking panel the candidates running in the 20th Congressional and the 48th Assembly districts for nomination at the June Primary.

City Council
Election Race
In 'Slump'

Activity in Sierra Madre's City Council election race went into a "pre-filing" slump this week.

At least the campaign was not openly active. It was becoming clear, however, that the three conciliant positions would not be filled at the April 11 municipal election without a clearcut fight.

So far, only five nomination papers have been issued by City Clerk Lawrence Brain. Petitions will be available for circulation during the next week.

Deadline for filing petitions is noon of March 2. There have been no filings as yet, but the filing of petitions usually is reserved for the final day.

Alexander Black of 445 E. Highland avenue is one of the five who have taken out petitions, but he said that it has not been decided whether he or another of his group of supporters would enter the Council race.

There have been four announcements of candidacy.

They are Councilman William A. Kinney, who said he would seek re-election; Attorney Noren Eaton, former city judge, whose candidacy was

Ascension School Pupils
Visit NEWS' Printshop

Fourteen third-grade youngsters from Church of the Ascension Parish Day School visited the Sierra Madre NEWS offices and printing plant Thursday afternoon.

Fulfilling semester requirements for studying newspapers, the pupils were given instruction and demonstration of every phase of printing the newspaper.

First stop of the tour, after passing through the editorial and advertising departments, was at the Intertype machine, where each child was given a sample piece of lead with his or her name cast on it.

Shop foreman Loran Perry explained how the machine worked and set the sample "slugs."

From there, the 8 and 9-year-old youngsters went over to the commercial printing presses and watched them in operation. Pressman Frederick Hawkins explained how they are fed automatically, started and stopped.

The large newspaper press was shown the 14 students next, and a hundred additional copies of last week's NEWS were run off. Edmund Ledyard, compositor, sent the printed sheets through the folding machine, and each child received a completed newspaper.

Ascension School pupils making the visit, accompanied by teacher Sister Noel, were Wendy DeGroot, Coralyn Powell, Linda Monahan, Louise Farrow, Jana Rudbach, Gail Ann Higgins, Barbara Sanders, Hilary Haney, Marcia Ann Northrop, Thomas Emory Steele, Stephen G. Davis, Stephen Hupp, Joe Scalzo, and Nell B. Williams.

Sister Noel explained that four of her third graders were absent from school Thursday and therefore unable to take part in the excursion. They are Bob Joehnick and Laurie Perrin, Jeffrey Rickard, and Raymon Smith.

Baritone To Sing Sunday

Baritone Earle Anderson, well-known radio and recording artist and a resident of Sierra Madre, will present a concert of sacred music Sunday evening, Feb. 26, at Bethany Church.

Mr. Anderson, who recently completed a tour of Canada and the northwestern portions

According to the Rev. Clarence Nida, Bethany Church pastor, Mr. Anderson has dedicated his musical talents to the presentation and interpretation of sacred song.

Last month, he appeared as guest soloist with the San Gabriel Valley Symphony Orchestra. He has been professor of voice at Pasadena College for the past 2½ years.

Red Cross Names City Area Chiefs

Appointment of residential captains for the 1950 Fund Campaign of the Sierra Madre Chapter, American Red Cross, was made last week by Al E. Morgan, campaign chairman.

Each district captain will be in charge of 500 homes, each district being a geographical unit. Captains are:
Mrs. J. C. James, district 1; Mrs. Herbert Dowling, district 2; Mrs. Lawrence Perry, district 3; Mrs. Sam Haskins, district 4; Mrs. Otto O. Klose, district 5; Mrs. Paul Burton, district 6; Mrs. Alfred James Dewey, Mrs. Frank Cox, and Mrs. Joseph Worthington, district 7; Mrs. Fred Morgan, district 8; Mrs. Mary Holland, district 9; R. W. Lees, downtown district; and Mrs. Helen Narozny, district 10.

Mr. Morgan said these residential captains are appointing their volunteers in preparation for the start of the campaign March 1.

The local drive chairman reminded Sierra Madreans that donations made out of town are not returned to the local chapter.

"Any aid we may seek, however, must come through Sierra Madre, and not from an out-of-town chapter. This is the case even though a person may work near a neighboring chapter," Mr. Morgan stated.

Local quota for the 1950 drive is $5200.

Taxes and the Telephone

Take a minute and look at your telephone bill and notice how much you have to pay in Federal taxes each month.

Long Distance calls costing 25c or more are taxed 25%—Local service, 15%. The excise tax on luxuries is 20%. But you cannot classify telephone service as a luxury—it is a necessary function of day to day living.

Telephone taxes were imposed during the war as an emergency measure, and as such they served their purpose. It is now time to remove them. The subject will be discussed at this session of Congress and we believe that your Congressmen and Senators will be glad to have your views on the matter. Why not write them today?

Resident Presents Her First Impressions of 'The Desert'

(Editor's note: Mrs. Dickerman, 201 N. Lima, recently enjoyed her first desert outing at Palm Springs. She was so overcome with emotion at the beauty to be seen there that she had to express it creatively. Oil painting is her usual medium of art but her oils and brushes were at home. She therefore turned to poetry, a means of expression she had used only once before. Mrs. Dickerman's "The Desert" was read at a recent meeting of the Great Books Discussion Group and enthusiastically received.)

THE DESERT

By Betty Dickerman
Oh clouds so white and sands so pure,
Oh sky of aqua and azure,
Oh mountains cut like precious stones
So sharp and smooth in different tones.
Of tan and pink, of dark and light,
Then a blend of blue against the night.
Is this your aim? Is this your scheme?
To show us God's eternal theme?

To love and live with all in peace,
To work and plan so wars can cease.
I've sought so long a mind of peace
I've found you here. Ah, sweet release!
Oh sands that glow and trees that gleam,
It seems that here I've found my dream.

INDIA MISSIONARIES

Dr. and Mrs. John C. Taylor, Reform Church missionaries in Roorkee, India, for the past 36 years, will arrive in Sierra Madre March 4. This is their first trip here, and they will be guests at the home of Miss Martha J. Ramsey of 722 Canyon Crest Dr.

DRIVER JAILED AFTER FIVE-CAR COLLISION

Following a spectacular five-car collision Friday night with property damage estimated at from $1500 to $2000, a man was booked and jailed on charges of drunkenness and driving while intoxicated.

And in traffic court Saturday morning, City Judge John C. Mead levied a $200 fine on the driver, Walter V. Turner of Geneseo, Illinois, who is visiting at the Howard Camp residence, 56 S. Lima.

Mr. Turner told police he was trying to make a left hand turn into a driveway at 265 Mariposa when, as he put it, "I lost control of the car."

His automobile struck one parked car on the west side of Mariposa a glancing blow, which started the following chain reaction—all to parked and unoccupied cars.

Mrs. J. B. Jovenat's car was pushed against another automobile parked behind her. Damage to Mrs. Jovenat's car: torn left, rear fender, dented rear trunk, and broken front bumper. The car behind her, registered to Mark J. Schafer, 282 Mariposa, received a dented rear fender, rear bumper, and mangled spare tire.

After the impact with these two cars, Mr. Turner's car veered across the street, jumping the curb, and striking a car owned by Mrs. Madge Barnes, 265 1/2 Mariposa. Her auto, in turn, smashed into a fifth car, registered to William P. Patterson of El Monte.

A sobriety test was administered at the Police station by Dr. Thomas Wynne, who reported Mr. Turner was suffering from "acute alcoholism."

College Will Resume Kellogg Horse Shows

Famous Kellogg Horse Shows at the Kellogg Ranch near Pomona will be resumed March 12 under the management of the California State Polytechnic College, it was announced this week by Julian A. McPhee, president of the college.

The horse shows, regular Sunday attraction which drew more than 250,000 visitors to the ranch each year since 1925, had been discontinued on November 21, 1948, when the US Department of Agriculture decreed that the ranch should be abandoned, and the prize Arabians sold.

The W. K. Kellogg Foundation, rather than let the ranch die, requested Congress to turn the property over to the college. A bill authorizing this was signed by Truman June 30, 1949. The college officially took over November 1, 1949.

FIRE FLAMES

So far, so good, as we enter the latter part of February.

Now is the time to do that open burning if it MUST be done. It would be much better if open burning could be entirely eliminated—not altogether because it is a fire danger, but because of the smoke from the burning of leaves and trimmings, etc., that we sort of hate to be told that it adds to the smog nuisance. If there is anyone who doubts this, just take a walk or ride to the upper regions of your city on a clear morning and look over the valley. You will be able to see smoke floating over the valley that comes from fires in back yards.

This may be harmless and it may not be. The writer is not to be the judge. But those people who are so determined to banish the smog and smoke nuisance must regard this slight offense as a contributor.

Your fire department continues to be active with drills and fire prevention. A large percentage of the membership is devoting off Friday evenings to fire drills. Because of the lack of real fires, drills are essential.

It is the aim of your local fire department to permit the use of barbecues at odd hours. Much pleasure is derived from a good outdoor cooker.

All that is necessary is to build one that will prove fool-proof in regards to fire danger. It is also necessary that the barbecue be free of smoke nuisance.

After all, your neighbor may not enjoy smoke floating through his house in the evening when he wants to read his newspaper. Much worse if he is trying to sleep. If you are planning on a barbecue, let us help. There are many places that are unfit to have one.

How important is your fire department? It is a necessary function. Do you realize how difficult it is to find suitable men for the membership?

An applicant must live and work within the city limits and he must be available to fight fire at any time of the day or night. A man who leaves the city or who lives outside the city is of little value as a protective fire fighter.

Too much cannot be said in favor of Dick Hawks for permitting his valuable machinists to leave the job to fight fire. There is no way of knowing when a fire fighter will return. When this is considered, we can well see what this means to the Hawks Machine Shop.

The applicant must also be acceptable to the other members. This alone guarantees sociability and good fellowship. He cannot do the work unless he is physically fit, so you can see that it is not too easy to find the men for the job.

When the alarm sounds just watch Bobby Clark, Andy Liscombe, Lewis George and the men from the Hawks Hive of Industry. Everything goes into fire fighting and they are "off!" Pounding fenders, selling gasoline, and making gadgets is forgotten for getting to the fire and getting the FIRES OUT.

Brotherhood Week Noted At Kiwanis

National Brotherhood Week was observed Tuesday noon at the weekly meeting of Kiwanis. Chairman of the day was Knox Hagar, who urged Kiwanians and all citizens not to promote brotherhood just one week of the year, but to boost it and live it all the time, every day.

Mr. Hagar pointed out that the world is continually growing smaller with each scientific development and improvement in communication. "We must 'rub elbows' with peoples of all faiths, political and cultural backgrounds. It is essential, therefore, that we understand and cooperate with our brothers from all over the world."

Mr. Hagar reminded Kiwanians and guests that the National Conference of Christians and Jews was formed in 1928 to promote justice and religious understanding.

The speaker presented a sound motion picture, "Mr. Bell," which told the story of Alexander Graham Bell in his attempts to aid the deaf and his invention of the telephone. March 7 marks the 74th anniversary of the telephone.

Sponsored by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph, the film featured Edward Johnson as "Mr. Bell."

Visiting Kiwanians at the meeting were W. C. Botkin of Temple City, and Charles Brown of Pasadena. Harry H. Shatto, new director of public works, was introduced to the club.

Marcus Woodward, Cubmaster, said the breakfast will begin at 7:30 a.m., and that the program would be completed by 9 o'clock.

He indicated that the event would be attended by nearly 100 per cent of the Pack membership of 72. By Tuesday, 60 tickets—each one good for a father and son—had been sold.

Bill Schwartz left by plane Monday for Mazatlan, Mexico, and he expects to take up residence in that vicinity. For the past six months he has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Schwartz of 282 E. Highland.

Bill has been living in Mazatlan, on and off, for the past three years. When he returns this time, he plans to join a friend in the development of a papaya plantation.

Pea Lodges In Throat

A green pea lodged in her throat, Mrs. Samuel Honta was near strangulation Sunday, Feb. 12, when Sierra Madre police rushed her to St. Luke Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Honta, 318 W. 80th street, Los Angeles, was a dinner guest at the home of Mrs. Mary Prikis, 560 Brookside Lane, when the accident occurred.

During the meal, Mrs. Honta reportedly had a fit of coughing and choking, and was unable to catch her breath. Local officers responded to the emergency call and transported her to the hospital.

Following medical aid at St. Luke, Mrs. Honta was returned to 560 Brookside Lane where the visit was resumed.

ALA Unit Notes 25th Anniversary

Twenty-five years ago this month, 20 women—wives and sisters of World War I veterans—met at the City Parkhouse to organize Unit No. 297, American Legion Auxiliary.

Of the 20 who signed the charter that day, eight are still residents of Sierra Madre and will be honored guests with all past-presidents at a special birthday party this evening, Feb. 23, at 8 o'clock.

The celebration will be held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Welch, 50 Montecito Court, with Mrs. Ora Olsen serving as co-hostess.

Charter members to be feted at the birthday party are Mrs. Leila Roberts, first president of the Sierra Madre Auxiliary; Mrs. Olsen, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, Mrs. Agnes Tyree, Mrs. Elva Reavis, Mrs. Elva Layton, and Mrs. Nina Railsback.

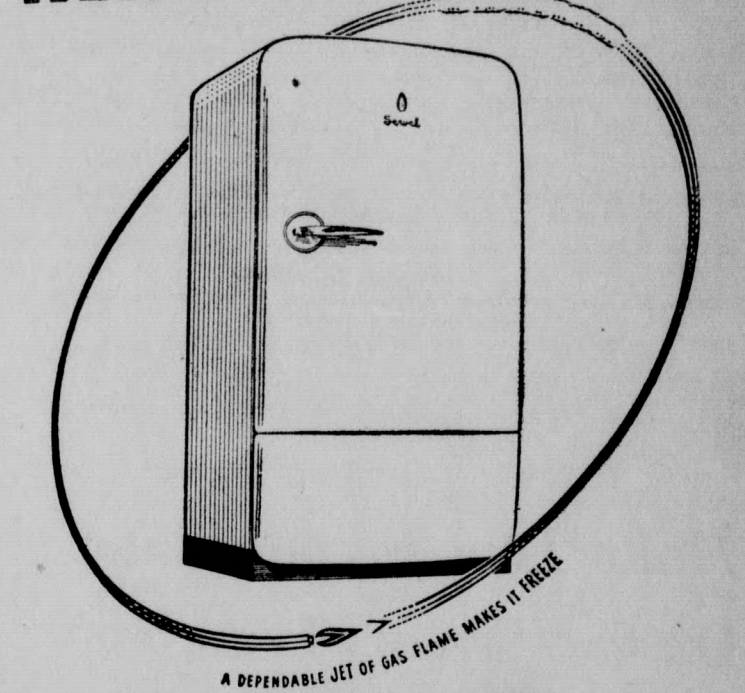

Mrs. Maybelle Barker, unit historian, relates that Mrs. Lida E. Spence, First Vice-President of the Department of California, was present at the meeting when ALA Charter was granted and gave a short talk on the work and purposes of the Legion Auxiliary.

U.S. Savings Bonds

"Nearly $3 billion is being distributed to 16,000,000 World War II veterans in National Service Life Insurance dividends during the early part of 1950. This money should be used wisely for the benefit of veterans, their families and the Nation. We believe one of the wisest ways veterans can use the money is to buy United States Savings Bonds, which increase in value 3 3/4% in ten years, and provide funds for education, retirement, reserves and emergencies.

"As elected National Commanders, we, the undersigned, urge every veteran to invest some of his National Service Life Insurance dividend in U. S. Savings Bonds. By so doing, we will lead the way in demonstrating to our comrades-in-arms of World War II, all over the world, that we are dedicating this money to continue world peace; for without peace, we cannot provide security for ourselves, our children or our children's children."

Make Known Your Stand On The Armory Issue Now

To All Members
Los Angeles County Delegation
California Legislature

The Interim Committee on Military and Veterans Affairs has recommended that the Legislature approve a program for construction of 45 National Guard Armories throughout the state.

This recommendation includes nine for Los Angeles County. Among them is a type "A" armory for Sierra Madre that will cost $95,000.

The 1949 Legislature turned down the overall appropriation in what was termed an "economy" move.

But this cannot be called economy. It is very clear on its face that the National Guard has become the basic training program for our national defense. The National Guard is the vehicle through which well-trained men practice preparedness every day. And this role of preparedness is one of heritage with the National Guard.

To disregard the recommendations of the committee is not economy. These proposed buildings will be used for the next 50 years. Right now the State is paying out more than $50,000 a year in order to rent inadequate and temporary meeting places where there are no armories.

Sierra Madre's Heavy Mortar Company of the 223rd Infantry Regiment, 40th Infantry Division, has four officers and 81 men. But this company has no adequate meeting place. Its present quarters are in the basement of the City Hall which has served as a recreation hall for the American Legion.

It is apparent that the cities earmarked for armories by the Committee are those cities most desperately in need of buildings for their National Guard units.

The City of Sierra Madre already has taken action to deed property to the State for construction. The building itself would serve a dual, full-time purpose. Its construction would fit into the city's recreation program, and, when not needed for Guard activities, it would be available to all organized societies of the city.

The citizens of Sierra Madre urge that you not only vote for the armory appropriation but actively work for its passage.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR HEWITT, Editor
Sierra Madre NEWS
Sierra Madre, California

This letter has been sent to Senator Jack B. Tenney, who represents Los Angeles County, and another to Assemblyman Bruce V. Reagan, who represents the 48th Assembly District. Copies have also been sent to the other 31 Assemblymen of Los Angeles County.

Sierra Madre has done its part in providing land for construction of the proposed armory on East Sierra Madre boulevard, and the need for the structure for the National Guard unit here has been recognized by the State Adjutant General's office at Sacramento.

The National Guard itself is the core of our national defense with more than 360,000 men in training. It is this nation's "part-time Army." The Guard represents the most economical aspect of our entire national defense program.

Individuals and organizations of Sierra Madre are urged to write letters to Senator Tenney at the State Building, Los Angeles, and to Assemblyman Bruce V. Reagan at 1746 Old Grove Road, Pasadena, urging them to support this bill and also to see that Sierra Madre's armory is not eliminated from the approved list.—A.H.

the California-Nevada District Kiwanis International.

Division 10 included at that time Kiwanis clubs in Sierra Madre, Pasadena, Altadena, South Pasadena, East Pasadena, El Sereno, El Monte, Monrovia, Glendora, Azusa, Claremont, Ontario, Pomona, Rosemead, Temple City and San Gabriel.

During his term as Lieutenant Governor, Dr. Simpson helped institute the Rosemead, San Marino, and El Monte clubs. He was also instrumental in starting the Arcadia club, of which Sierra Madre is co-sponsor with Monrovia.

Dr. Simpson was president of the Sierra Madre club in 1939.

A native of Delaware, he came to California for his health in 1924, and resumed his medical practice in Los Angeles in 1928. He was a Naturopath and Chiropractor, and, while living in Washington, D. C., he practiced also as a medical doctor.

He received his medical training at George Washington Medical School, and served for several years as dean of the National Chiropractic College in Washington, D. C. Dr. Simpson also served as chief of staff for the Homopathic Hospital and several other hospitals of that city.

A member of the Masonic order, he was most active while a member of the Hiram Lodge in Washington. He was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by his wife, Gladys H., a daughter, Marilyn G., both of Sierra Madre; a son, Raymond C. Simpson Jr. of Long Beach, and a sister, Mrs. Geneva Maxwell of Washington, D. C.

Services were held Saturday afternoon, 3 o'clock, at the Congregational Church. The Rev. Clarence Shackelford and the Rev. Carl Smith officiated. Private committal followed at the Pasadena Mausoleum. Grant Chapel was in charge of funeral arrangements.

youngsters' eyes.

Architect for the structure was Carlton Winslow Jr., of Beverly Hills, and contractors were from the Baker-Lane Construction Company of Altadena.

The Parish Day School was started three years ago with 22 pupils. Since that time, the student-body and faculty has been enlarged to an average of 95 to 100 students, kindergarten through the seventh grade, and six teachers, including three Sisters of St. Mary.

According to Father Smith, Sierra Madre's is the first complete parochial school planned by the Diocese of Los Angeles. Several other schools are in the area, he said, but they are spread over a large area, one or two classrooms to each separate unit.

At 3:15 p. m. Sunday, Bishop Bloy will dedicate the Sisters' Convent. Next activity of the afternoon is at 4 p. m. in the Ascension Church, when the Bishop will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation for one of the Church classes of 20 adults. Dedication of the School will immediately follow the Confirmation rites.

Father Smith said all pupils of the parochial school will be present, in their uniforms, and he invited parents and adults of the church to attend also.

The Ascension School Song, written by fourth-grade teacher, Helen Elliott, and adapted to music by the School Music teacher, Mrs. Harold Higgins, will be sung Sunday for the first time.

REPORT CONTINUED OF COUNCIL MEET

Three items from the agenda at last week's meeting of the City Council were omitted in the NEWS' report of the meeting because of lack of space. The "missing" items are the following:

The city clerk was authorized to file bids to replace two trucks: the old blue Ford pickup for another pickup (water department) and a 1½ ton street department truck for a new 3/4 tonner. Money for purchase is in the budget.

The Council also approved a joint application for county recreation funds for this year—a maximum allowable of $766.70. The application must be made jointly with the school district.

Specifications for the new garbage and tin can collection due February 28, were approved by the Council.

The contract will be essentially the same, with two garbage pickups a week and two can pickups a month, except that the successful bidder must provide a phone station for receiving complaints and must

School Cafeteria Will Try 'One-Plate' Fare

The Sierra Madre School Board last week voted to go off the "a la carte" menu system in the school cafeteria for a period of one month.

During March, the cafeteria will serve only one well-balanced plate order each day. This is being tried so more children can use the cafeteria facilities, according to Charles Skutt, school superintendent.

Price of each meal will drop from an average of 35 cents to 21 cents, Mr. Skutt explained.

The new system is being given for a month sample test to see if the cafeteria can serve 300 children, instead of the usual 100 to 150. After the trial is completed, results of the test will be evaluated, and the Board will decide whether to continue the one-plate meals.

Herman Escherich passed away Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Martha Morris, of 3003 Margaret Drive, Pasadena, at the age of 91 years, following a seven weeks' illness. He had been a resident of California since 1897, 10 years of which time was spent in Sierra Madre.

Services were held yesterday at the Church of the Resurrection, Forest Lawn. Mrs. Escherich passed away two years ago. A grandson, Bruce Masters, resides on Woodland Drive in this city.

K. W. Kearney Fears Next Years' Fishing

Kenneth W. Kearney, former Sierra Madre resident and attorney now the Deputy District Attorney of Inyo County, reports that Sierra Madre visitors last year found the fishing so good up there that he fears the entire town will come up when the next season starts.

Mr. Kearney who practiced law in Los Angeles for many years, now resides and maintains his offices in the city of Independence, where it is said a stream "literally crammed with trout" runs through town. The creek's naturally abundant supply of trout is generously supplemented with those planted by Fish and Game of facials. Result: Sierra Madreans trying their luck at fishing there have become enthusiastic boosters of the town.

Recent visitors to Independence from this city were the Harry Lange family, Randall Perry and family, the R. O. Perrys, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Turnball, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gorman.

Last Weekend guests were the Lee Shippeys. Mr. Shippey says he wouldn't fish there even if (1) he were a fisherman; and (2) if the season was not closed.

Woodcarving To Be Demonstrated In Danielson's Window

A demonstration of woodcarving will be presented every day next week in the window of Francis Danielson's Radio and Paint Shop, 62 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Herbert L. Kelley, 379 Sycamore Place, will have his bench and tools set up in the store window from Monday, Feb. 27, through Saturday, March 4, and will offer a practical demonstration of how to make many useful household articles, including corner and hanging shelves and cartouches.

Intended to acquaint Sierra Madre shoppers with woodcarving as a hobby, business, and art, the demonstration will be offered during the afternoons

Police Seek Hit and Run Driver, Car

A hit and run traffic collision was reported in Sierra Madre last week by—of all things—an out of town visitor.

Mrs. N. S. Morin, 1110 E. Duarte Road, Monrovia, reports her car was struck by another unidentified car as she was driving into the city to visit a friend, a Mrs. Nelson of 245 N. Sunnyside avenue.

The driver of the other automobile, she reported, not only did not stop, but gained speed and disappeared to the north. The accident occurred at the intersection of Baldwin and Orange Grove Friday, February 10. Mrs. Morin told police she was driving north on Baldwin and had assumed the hit and run car approaching the corner on Orange Grove would stop for the stop sign.

He did not. "When I was parallel to the northeast corner, the car cut between me and the curb, striking my auto's right rear fender," Mrs. Morin said.

Impact of the crash tore off the running board and dented the right front fender.

Mrs. Morin could offer no description of the car, only that it was an old model black sedan "with one red rear light on the left side."

Occidental College Offers Scholarships

Honor scholarships valued at from $250 to $500 will be awarded to 14 high school graduates by Occidental College for the academic year beginning in September, according to College President Arthur G. Coons.

In addition, Dr. Coons said, five scholarships of similar value will be awarded to junior college graduates, and 30 awards valued at approximately $250 each will be presented other qualified students.

MORNING FIRE DAMAGES AUTO

A car fire, apparently started by defective ignition wiring, was extinguished early yesterday morning by City Volunteer Firemen.

The car, a Lincoln coupe owned by J. C. Slater, 233 E. Orange Grove, received damage to the motor, hood, and wiring.

HOPPERS TRAVEL

Mr. and Mrs. Byron C. Hopper and son, David, spent the early part of this week at their beach home in Laguna and also visited Mrs. Hopper's family in Phoenix, Ariz.

BANKER AND FAMILY VACATION AT EL PASO

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ingraham and Mrs. C. L. Baird motored to El Paso, Texas, Sunday, where they will enjoy an annual two-week vacation. Mr. Ingraham is cashier of the Bank of Sierra Madre.

Question Of The Week

Do you think the downtown district of Sierra Madre has a serious parking problem? If so, what can be done to lessen this problem?

Mrs. May de Wright, 540 W. Alegria: While we can still buy land behind the stores south of Sierra Madre boulevard reasonably cheap, we should obtain some of this land for off-street parking. Money could best be obtained for this project through the use of parking meters.

Frank A. Spencer, 139 W. Orange Grove: Parking meters are the best solution I know to cure Sierra Madre's acute downtown parking problem. From the revenue received, additional land could be purchased for off-street parking.

Oleta de Campo, 357 Sycamore Place: Some sort of retaining wall should be built along the curbs of the downtown district to prevent cars from sliding into stores. I think a system of penny parking meters would also help prevent the hogging of parking space by a few, all-day shoppers and merchants.

COURT OF HONOR SET FOR MONDAY

On the basis of a recent Scout Board of Review, it was estimated this week that many Sierra Madre Scouts will receive awards at Monday's Court of Honor, 7:30 p.m., at the City School auditorium.

In charge of this month's Court are Scouts of Troops 1 and 3, according to District Committeeman Richard Lees.

Commissioner R. G. Barrett announced last week that 25 boys have recently joined various Scout units in the city. He attributed this "commendable growth" to the increased tempo of adult interest in Scouting and good coverage of activities in the NEWS.

Mr. Lees said Tenderfoot Scouts, principally the new Scouts, and patrol leaders will take part in an overnight camp at Camp Huntington in Altadena this weekend, leaving Sierra Madre Friday night and returning Saturday morning.

Scouts attending the camp will be required to cook their own breakfast. Mr. Lees said the trip is planned to help indoctrinate the new boys in the ways of camping.

TROPIC TRAVELS

Mrs. Henry Nuetzel and Mrs. Harold F. Spears of this city will leave the first part of March for a pleasure trip to Bermuda and the Caribbean. They will travel by TWA Airlines.

Cupboard Yields Old Article About Town

While rummaging through some cupboards at his home last week, Sierra Madrean Russell Jenkins uncovered a fragment from a newspaper published on August 15, 1923.

Curiously enough, the only complete article on a torn sheet from the out-of-town newspaper concerned Sierra Madre. The story described a heated controversy raging at that time about efforts to annex local schools with the Pasadena City School District.

Still in his mid-twenties violinist, will be presented Saturday, March 4, at Sierra Madre's third Community Concert at the City School auditorium. Concert time is 8:15 p. m.

The musical spotlight of fame first fell on young Neaman in England during the war when he had forsaken music for a factory job to help the war effort. He became an overnight sensation when he was called from his electrician's job, on a few hours' notice, to substitute for his music teacher who suddenly had been taken ill.

Mr. Neaman had showed musical talent at an early age and he was only 9 years of age when his mother took him to Paris for training. He studied five years at the Conservatoire and, at 14, was graduated with a Premier Prix. At the same time he took private lessons from Jacques Thibaud.

Later he studied in London with Carl Flesch. After the war, Mr. Neaman played in South Africa and in Holland, in addition to touring England

'Borrowed' Car Found

Police concluded last week that a "friend" must have "borrowed" Earl W. LaLone's car, when it was reported stolen early Friday morning, Feb. 10.

Mr. LaLone, who lives at 79 E. Highland avenue, told police that he had parked his automobile in front of 136 W. Highland while visiting neighbors. When he came out to drive home, however, the car had vanished.

The car, which Mr. LaLone had just purchased, was readily recovered by Sierra Madre police officers, who located it parked in front of the VFW Old Adobe, 37 E. Montecito.

Writer Explains Use of Income Tax Form 1040

(Editor's Note: Federal income tax returns may be filed on one of two forms: Form 1040-A or Form 1040. In our issue 3 weeks ago, an article appeared, covering the use of Form 1040-A, the Employee's Optional Individual Income Tax Return. Readers who are interested are referred to that article. The following article deals entirely with the use of Form 1040.)

BY ROBERT R. RIDDELL

Form 1040 may be used by any taxpayer, regardless of the total amount of his income, or its source. If his "adjusted gross income" is less than $5,000, he may use either the long or the short form; if it is $5,000 or more, he MUST use the long form.

The term "adjusted gross income" means different things for different taxpayers. For the person engaged in business or a profession, it means his gross receipts minus ordinary and necessary business expenses; for the employed, it means gross income minus expenses of travel, meals and lodging while in an "away from home" status (defined very technically in rulings and decisions) and certain reimbursed expenses; for the person with income rental property, it means total receipts from rent minus expenses incident to the rental business, and depreciation.

The use of the short form 1040 is advantageous to the taxpayer who does not have non-business deductions amounting to as much as ten per cent of his gross income. Non-business deductions are such items as charitable contributions, interest and taxes paid, medical expenses, non-business losses, and other items which are entered on page three of the return when the long form is used.

In using the short form 1040, the taxpayer will determine his adjusted gross income (which is, for most individuals, the same as gross income); then will turn to the table on the last page of Form 1040, where he will find his tax. The table takes into consideration the number of exemptions claimed by the taxpayer, and gives him credit for deductions approximating ten per cent of his adjusted gross income.

The tables are arranged in two columns for each tax bracket. It will be noted that over both columns are the words "If total income in item 6, page 1, is"; then, at the head of the first column, the words "at least"; and, at the head of the second column, "But less than." The tax bracket must be selected which includes the amount of the income. For example: if the amount of income is $3,350, the bracket to be selected is "at least $3,350 but not more than $4,000"—NOT that which "at least $3,350 but not more than $3,350." Having determined the proper tax bracket, the tax due is selected from the column which gives the taxpayer the number of exemptions to which he is entitled.

The tax tables are so arranged that if a husband and wife file a joint return, they are given every advantage of the "split income" method of filing, which was initiated last year.

The long form 1040 can be

used advantageously when the taxpayer's itemized deductions are in excess of ten per cent of his adjusted gross income. Now, instead of finding the tax in tables on the basis of the amount of adjusted gross income, the taxpayer reduces that adjusted gross income by the amount of his itemized deductions, to produce a figure known as net income; reduces the net income by the amount to which he is entitled as exemptions; and computes tax on the resulting amount by using the tax rate schedule listed on last page of the instruction booklet which he received with his blank return.

The law controlling the use of the so-called optional standard deduction has been liberalized so that it now applies to the case of a taxpayer with adjusted gross income in excess of $5,000 who has less than ten per cent of his adjusted gross income as itemized deductions. In such case, the taxpayer may take a standard deduction of ten per cent of his adjusted gross income, or $1,000, whichever figure is the smaller. For example: an individual who has adjusted gross income of $9,000, who can claim itemized deductions totaling only $400, may take a standard deduction of $900, thus saving tax on $500. If the adjusted gross income increases to $10,000, he may take a standard deduction of $1,000. But now he has reached the limit. If adjusted gross income increases to $12,000, he may take only $1,000. This rule applies to a single person or to a married couple filing jointly. If a married couple file separate Forms 1040, each is limited to $500 as the standard deduction.

The Collector of Internal Revenue received many returns filed separately by husbands and wives, in which one spouse uses the standard deduction, and the other itemized deductions. Such filings are erroneous, and upon audit must be corrected. The spouse who itemizes his deductions controls the action of the other spouse; and if one itemizes, the other must itemize.

Whether a taxpayer uses Form 1040 or Form 1040-A, if he has received from his employer a Withholding Statement, it must be attached to the return when it is filed. If he has had more than one employer, all Withholding Statements must be attached.

Thousands of returns have been sent back to the taxpayers already this year, because of neglect at this point. The reason for this requirement is apparent. Each Withholding Statement shows not only the wages paid, but also the amount withheld for income tax payment. This, then, constitutes a credit against the total tax due. This year, every return receives a preliminary audit before it is processed. At this point, the withholding statement is the only evidence that the Collector has as to the amount of credit to which the taxpayer is entitled; therefore if the Withholding Statements are not attached, he is required to delay action upon the return until he has definite evidence of credits against the tax due. (Our next article will discuss the "Split Income" method of filing returns: Income to be included; Income which may be excluded; and exemptions.)

First Aid Class Starts

Eleven Sierra Madreens attended the first session of the local Red Cross Chapter's First Aid class last Wednesday, 7:30 to 9:30 at the City Hall.

According to Harry Lange, Sierra Madre First Aid Chairman, eight of the course members are city volunteer firemen, the other three being citizens interested in learning more about the emergency treatment.

The 10-weeks' course will offer instruction in elementary First Aid, including bandage wrapping, pressure points, artificial respiration, and other vital emergency measures.

Teacher of the class is Sierra Madre physician, Dr. Thomas A. Wynne.

Mr. Lange said there is still room for three or four additional students in the class. Persons wishing to enroll should contact him.

Dr. Goslin is superintendent of schools in Pasadena; Mr. Brightbill is president of the American Recreation Society.

Winter Tourists Spend An Average of $2380

Winter tourists, spending at the rate of $54,368 an hour, poured $40,450,458 of out-of-state money into Southern California during January, the All-Year Club, reported this week.

Don Thomas, managing-director of the club, said a total of 169,426 out-of-state vacationists came to the Southland during the month. Average spending, per vacationist during the visit, was $238.

TRAFFIC DEATHS DOWN SLIGHTLY

An estimated 1631 traffic fatalities, including 727 in Los Angeles County, were reported in the 13 southland counties during 1949, Public Safety officials of the Southern California Automobile Club disclosed this week.

This represents the lowest such figure since 1944 and is particularly noteworthy because motor vehicle registrations in the state have been increased by more than 1,000,000 cars in the past five years, the club said.

It was pointed out that the 1949 fatality totals in Southern California indicated a slight improvement over the previous year's figures which showed 1654 deaths, 799 of which occurred in Los Angeles County. Statewide traffic fatality marks were three per cent higher than in 1948.

Judge Mead Attends

Traffic Judge Confab

City Judge John C. Mead attended a meeting yesterday afternoon of all traffic court judges of Los Angeles County, held at Universal Studios in Hollywood.

Purpose of the conference was to decide on recommended changes designed to unify the bail schedules used throughout the county. Chairman of the meeting was Judge Roger A. Pfaff of Los Angeles.

Minors Involved in City Traffic Court

Three minor youths were involved in traffic court proceedings Saturday morning. In all three cases, City Judge John C. Mead fined parents of the offending youngsters.

Four drivers forfeited bail by not appearing in court, and Judge Mead issued two bench warrants.

POLICE BLOTTER

A car speeding down the street, the driver didn't see a little girl that stood stark still in the center of a crosswalk. The little girl was struck by the car and whirled off into the gutter fifty feet from the crosswalk.

Her legs were bent backward and her back was broken. She lost the beautiful brown eyes and black hair and she looked like the wreck of the Hesperus.

We are wondering if Jack Rhodes down at the water plant will be able to weld her together again. Several of these new steel "Sallies" have been struck by cars already.

An old water tunnel that has served long is now afflicted with decaying shoring—dangerous to children if a cave-in should occur. It is private property.

An orchard heater in the experimental stage has aroused much objection by neighbors, because of the terrific noise produced. Officer Fish reported back that it was a mighty fine heater that looked like a cross between a Jet Engine and a giant blow torch.

Heasley later stated that the explosions were so expressively explosive that when heard, he expected anything. A rush call for the Fire Department, rescuer.

A pea in her throat was rea-

Doctors Say Go To Bed When Flu Hits

Whenever symptoms of influenza are suspected, the sick person should be put to bed and the doctor called immediately, the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association cautioned residents this week.

The doctor will prescribe the best treatment for the individual patient, but he will insist the person with flu remain in bed until completely recovered.

Pneumonia will sometimes develop in spite of all precautions, but this happens most frequently with patients who get up and about before fully recovered from their influenza.

son for choking. An emergency hospital call was necessary.

A drunk man at her house was a disturbance to her. She wanted him removed. $20.00 or ten days.

Lost wrist watch, a barking dog and an open cesspool. Not a very good connection, we will admit.

The Chief of Police knows little about what to do with fainting women. After conducting business with the police, she turned and fell to the floor. Dr. Jacobs responded to an urgent call. The lady survived and was taken to her home.

A fall from a bike. T'was found that the boy had a concussion of the brain. Taken to the Hospital. Stolen Auto.

Boys from Pasadena come here to overturn garbage cans. Perhaps we have better garbage. Runaway horse corralled by Carl Hansen of the Ford Garage. Carl handled the equine monster in the manner of a professional equestrian. (That's a lot of Horse Meat.)

Possible attempt burglary. Another report on the noisy heater. An escapee from up State. Dog trouble. An auto accident. What an accident! After running into parked cars on one side of the street, he veered to the opposite side and took two more. A total of five cars involved. Lots of damage too. Yes, he was. He pled guilty and what a price he had to pay.

Parked car reported, Mackie and Bird found it to be filled with "lovers." The complainant stated they were awfully noisy sweethearts. A "TC." School children break a wire fence as they "rest" on it while waiting for the school bus.

Lost children. Return soon. Attempt suicide. Dan Rauscher, Heasley and Twedell to the rescue. Got there in time to prevent damage.

Sierra Madre traffic is not as it was in the year 1900. Several residents of this period appear not to recognize this fact. You cannot turn around with an automobile at just any angle or anywhere without endangering yourself and others.

Traffic rules and regulations are made for the protection of the public from those who disregard safety and common courtesy. Driving rules are only common sense forced onto some of us. Let's do better.

AUTO BACKING OUT RAMS PASSING CAR

Fender-damage to his automobile was reported Saturday by Grady West, 3034 N. Marengo avenue, Altadena, who said he was struck in front of 12 W. Sierra Madre boulevard when another car backed out of a parking space.

Driver of the other car, Charles B. McDonald of Del Mar, Calif., reported no damage to his auto.

'Y-TEEN' VARIETY SHOW TOMORROW NIGHT AT MUIR

"Dreams," a Y-Teen musical variety show, will be presented tomorrow night, 8 o'clock, at the John Muir College auditorium.

Written and produced by Marshall Malik, the show is incorporating the ideas and suggestions of girls from 27 Pasadena and area clubs. Proceeds of the show, which is sponsored by the YWCA, will go into the Y-Teen conference fund to help send girls to summer camps.

Jeanne Bowen of PCC will play the lead. Mrs. Charles H. Siegel of Sierra Madre is publicity chairman for the event.

Club presidents from Pasadena junior high schools are responsible for talent from their schools. Jane Adele Lange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lange, 529 W. Laurel, is one of the Y-Teen presidents at John Marshall.

FORESTRY FILMS SCHEDULED SUNDAY

The future of America's forests with their vital resources of timber and wildlife is the subject of a group of six documentary films to be presented at the Los Angeles County Museum in Exposition Park Friday night, Feb. 24, at 8 o'clock.

Titles of the films, several of which are in color, are "Everyman's Empire," "Guardians of Wild Life," "Timber and Totem Pole," "Smoke Jumpers," and "Then It Happened."

CITY INDIAN GUIDES TOUR TRAIN YARDS

Sixteen fathers and sons of the Sierra Madre YMCA Indian Guides toured the roundhouse and shop of Union Pacific Railway yards in Los Angeles Saturday morning.

The dads and youngsters were allowed to ride on one of the Diesel locomotives and blow the horn and pull the bell cord.

After watching workmen repairing several diesel engines, the Sierra Madreans visited the dispatching office, called the Central Traffic Control. It is in this office that routes and positions of every train on Southern California tracks are plotted.

Madre for use here. The other 31 per cent, or $1613, however, will go into the national fund. Sierra Madre's quota last year was $5591, Mr. Morgan pointed out.

Sixteen Sierra Madreans attended the Red Cross Mobilization Week program at the Biltmore Bowl Monday and heard a "kickoff" address by National Campaign Chairman George C. Marshall, former Secretary of State and U. S. Army General.

Local persons present at the event included Chairman and Mrs. R. C. Lewis, Mrs. Janet Wood, Mrs. Helen Hutton, Mrs. Woodson Jones, Mrs. Rebecca Colligan, Mrs. Mae de Wright, Mrs. Clara Sykes, Mrs. Florence Peterson, Mrs. John Conzelman, Mrs. Hortense Wells, Mrs. Robert Dodge, and guest,

ATTEND MONDAY PROGRAM

Letter to the Editor

Sierra Madre News,
Mrs. Clifford C. Ward,
Dear Mrs. Ward:

The children were delighted with their visit to the Sierra Madre News, and I think you would be especially interested in their comment: "Sister, they were so nice to us. Look at the things they gave us. Why did they do that?"

Again thanking you for your courtesy, and for the kindness and helpfulness of the staff, I am,

Sincerely,
Sister Noel, C. S. M.

Sierra Madre News,
Mrs. Clifford C. Ward,
Dear Mrs. Ward:

Thank you so much for the fine publicity the newspaper gave the Community Nursery School Auxiliary on the Fashion Tea. The attendance was over 350 and we have nearly 400 dollars to turn over to the Building Fund. Your cooperation was surely a large factor in the success of the project.

Sincerely,
Mary Beutlers,
(Mrs. E. W. Beutlers)
